Hargrave Flush Deck Motor Yacht:

Interior Designer: Shelley DiCondina and Owners

Design Influences and Color Palette:

When we met with the owners to start their build process they invited us to meet at their home in the Florida Keys. We spent some time touring their glorious beachfront villa as she explained to me their lifestyle. The most important goal was all of their family members to be comfortable and safe; this included toddlers and big dogs. No one was left behind! She also wanted the crew to be very comfortable which would give them some privacy.

After our lifestyle discussion we talked about the importance of daylight and making the windows as large as possible and letting the light flood in. She showed me the things she loved about her home that she had designed. There were beautiful sophisticated details with a coastal theme; coral mantles, marble floors, sea-blue glass colored art and sculptures. All the décor was soothing, subtle with slight tone and texture variations from room to room all in seaside colors. So from this we took our design lead on the yacht and created the next generation of chic-beach decor.

Main Salon and Dining Features:

The Main Salon has fabulous huge sectional in natural European linen weave With deep storage age coordinating ottoman. The bar to starboard has an faux leather upholstered front in silver chinchilla. The bar top and built-in custom cabinetry are all in gloss walnut with Taj Mahal quartzite tops; all honey-combed for lightness and stability.

Fly bridge:

The Flybridge was designed to accommodate a sectional sofa from Restoration Hardware’s outdoor line. The owners wanted slick, low seating with modern frame. We selected the Marbella collection in white on white. Our marine experts added a product called Starboard to the base which leveled the sectional to curve of the deck, which is necessary for drainage and then secured it permanently to the deck. We then had custom made Ankasa white Sunbrella pillows with gray embroidered silver palms.
